

What was experienced by skilled Blaise programmers to transition from Blaise 4.8 to 5.0

*David Dybicki & Peter Sparks
Survey Research Center
Survey Research Operations
The University of Michigan*

Computer programmers inherently always deal with change; it's the nature of a fast-paced workplace. We have to be adaptive to new tools to provide the outcome that not only meets but exceeds the needs of our client's requirements. This paper explains how experienced Blaise programmers applied the same productive skills and techniques in the more advanced and creative Blaise 5.0 environment.